

THIS MONTH AROUND THE WORLD

2

Naked riders

Bicycle riders go for a spin in their birthday suits in various cities of the Northern Hemisphere, including Helsinki on June 12 and Brussels on June 21. The World Naked Bike Ride draws attention to the negative aspects of oil dependency while promoting a safer, body-positive world. The dress code is "as bare as you dare."

World Cup footy

After months of frantic preparations and billions poured into new infrastructure, all eyes are on Brazil. The games of the 20th FIFA World Cup football tournament will take place in 12 cities, with 32 teams competing for victory. Half a million tourists are expected to flock to the country that last hosted the World Cup in 1950.

Ramadan in Dubai

The Ramadan Night Market shows the communal side of the month-long Muslim fasting period that starts on June 28. The market is open for the last 11 nights of Ramadan, filling the Dubai World Trade Centre with families. Kids play together while parents shop for food and gifts for Eid al-Fitr, the day of breaking the fast.
